

20 TIGERS TO START FOR JOPLIN TONIGHT

Nowell and LeMire in the Squad That Goes to Meet Oklahoma.

LINE-UP NOT YET CHOSEN

Cadet Band Will Go in Special Car—Widespread Interest in Game.

The University of Missouri football squad of twenty players will depart tonight on the "Katy" for Joplin. The players will have a special car and will go straight through to their destination, arriving about 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A light signal practice will be the only workout the team will get before the game. The party will start back to Columbia immediately after the game, and probably will arrive here at 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

The men who will make the trip are: Captain Thacher, Thompson, Anderson, Purkhiser, A. W. Roberts, Johnson, Graves, Houston, Burruss, Shuck, Idler, Klein, Saunders, Hall, Mills, Curtis, LeMire, Hackney, Knoble and Nowell.

The fact that Nowell and LeMire are to be taken shows that these two men are in condition to enter the game. Both probably will get into the playing for a while at least.

Little Known of the Sooners.

The team to start the game has not yet been picked and may not be chosen until the men go on the field ready for the game. Missouri is still in the dark regarding Oklahoma, as the Sooners have not played any games by which a comparison with the Tigers may be made. They have several of last year's veterans on the team.

The Tigers will hold final practice before the game this afternoon, and the playing will have much influence in deciding who will start the game at Joplin. The men are not overconfident, but they think Missouri is going to win.

Cadet Band to Go.

The University Cadet band will depart tomorrow night in a special car for Joplin, where their music will help in the game. Arrangements for sending the band were made this morning by the Jasper County club and alumni.

In a long distance telephone talk this morning Walter Stemmons, who is managing the Joplin end of the game, said that telegrams had been received from all parts of Southwest Missouri, Southeast Kansas and Oklahoma for seat reservations for the game. A girls' college at Eureka, Ark., telegraphed for forty boxes to be reserved. Several colleges in Kansas have wired for large reservations and a number are sending their entire football squads to Joplin to "see a real game."

Half Holiday in Joplin.

The city council of Joplin in its regular meeting last night declared a half holiday so that all city employees may see the game. The mayor has issued a proclamation urging that all business houses be closed.

Special reservations of seats have been made for high school students from Joplin, Webb City and Carthage. A mass meeting of high school students has been called at the Joplin high school for tomorrow afternoon. Speeches will be made by D. C. McVay, J. F. Williams and Burr Sennott. Alumni of the University also will talk. The students will be taught the yells and will be led by Sennott at the game in giving yells.

PARADE TO THE STATION

Students Will Cheer Tigers On Their Departure For Joplin.

The Tigers, the coach, the trainer and the band will be with the students at the mass-meeting in the University auditorium at 7:15 o'clock tonight. Immediately after the meeting is adjourned there will be a parade to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway station to cheer the Tigers on their departure for Joplin for the game with Oklahoma, Friday.

The coach, trainer, and a number of the players will be called on for speeches and some announcements for the benefit of those attending the game will be made.

Ad Club Meets Tonight.

A meeting of the University Ad club will be held tonight in the auditorium after the mass meeting. Arrangements for the "Amendment No. 11" dance will be completed.

IN EVERY TOWN IN BOONE

Commercial Club Will Send Out Speakers for Amendment.

The Commercial club will probably send speakers to every town in Boone county to urge support of the Eleventh Amendment. The club met late this afternoon to arrange for speakers to be sent to every part of the county next week.

The student who does nothing for the Eleventh Amendment during the remaining few days before election has no proper place among the loyal sons of old Missouri. The opportunity for a greater University of Missouri is here. The Eleventh Amendment will be adopted if every student is interested enough to work aggressively and effectively for it. Write home now. Go home election day. In such a crisis as this, it is your duty to work for your University.

14,000 LETTERS SENT

Ad Club Supply of Literature Regarding Mill Tax Is Exhausted.

More than 14,000 circular letters urging support for the proposed Amendment No. 11 have been placed in the hands of the students by the Ad club, an organization of presidents of the various county clubs in the University.

Only 15,000 letters were printed by the club and the supply is exhausted. The interest shown by the students is great. Some students took 500 or more each and returned them to the Ad club for mailing. Possibly twice the number could be sent were not the expense too great. Since the supply of letters is limited, the Ad club wants each letter to count, and students are urged to send the letters to persons of influence who might get additional votes for the amendment.

The members of the Pettis county club decided yesterday afternoon to go home election day and work at the polls besides voting. Five hundred letters will be sent to influential citizens urging their support and several articles will be sent to the Pettis county newspapers.

The following officers were elected: President, James Rogers, vice-president, Fred Kennedy; secretary, Steele Bast; corresponding secretary, Louise Lettis; treasurer, George Smith.

She gave a short talk outlining the purpose of the association and described what is being done at that branch of the association in Denver where she recently attended the meetings.

BONDS TO HIGHEST BIDDER TUESDAY

$125,000 Issue for Erection of Columbia Power Plant to be Sold.

COMPETITION EXPECTED

St. Louis Man May Not be Superintendent—No Other in Sight.

The bids for the $125,000 bond issue for the erection of the new water and light plant will be opened by the city council at the regular meeting next Tuesday. The matter of a new superintendent, also, probably will be again taken up. Mayor Stanley N. Smith said this morning that he expected the bids would be accompanied by several representatives of the different bidders. There may be considerable competition among them for the purchase of the bonds.

There will be no special meeting before next Tuesday unless something unexpected comes up, according to Mayor Smith. As it is probable a new superintendent cannot come before the first of the year he does not believe it will be necessary to rush the lection through and put the city to expense of another special meeting this week.

The council is searching for another man in case E. B. Smith of St. Louis cannot be procured. Several members of the council said this morning that they did not believe Mr. Smith would come. The greatest difficulty in the way of the council to sign a long term contract, and the next is that the company he is now with probably will raise his salary above what the city is able to pay, to retain him if necessary.

Mayor Smith prefers to find a man who is not actively seeking a position, as he believes a more satisfactory superintendent can be obtained this way.

The selection of a site for the new plant and other matters relative to its erection, will be laid aside until after the bonds are sold.

ST. LOUIS CLUB ELECTS

Lee H. Tate Is President—To Work For Amendment No. 11.

Lee H. Tate was elected president of the St. Louis club at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The other officers elected are: T. S. Haddaway, vice-president; Miss E. B. Brindell, secretary; C. F. Loomis, treasurer. The announcement was made that the St. Louis Alumni Association is planning to pay the expenses of all St. Louis students who go home to vote. A set of resolutions in favor of the Eleventh Amendment is to be sent to the St. Louis papers. The club also fixed an initiation fee of 25 cents to cover expenses.

PAYNE'S CONDITION IS NOT IMPROVED

Student Who Was Attacked By Negroes Still Dazed.

BLOW CAUSED CONCUSSION

Police Have Found No Claw to His Assaults.

Melvin Payne, the freshman student who was assaulted near his home on South Fifth street early Monday evening, is in a serious condition. Since the time he was attacked he has never fully regained consciousness. He lies in a stupor except when roused by stimulants, and at these times he only recognizes his mother in a rather uncertain way.

The young man suffers from pains in his head almost all the time. There are no cuts on his body as was at first supposed. His clothes are slashed and torn, however, where the knife was used. The blow on the head left no marks on the scalp but seems to have caused a concussion. Dr. J. W. Carver who is attending him, said this morning that Mr. Payne's mind was clouded but that he was probably doing as well as could be expected. His recovery will be slow.

In his delirium the boy speaks of struggling with the negroes and this has been the chief source of information that the police have been able to obtain concerning the case.

The police and Mr. Payne's family agree that there could have been no other motive than robbery. The members of the family are worried, especially Mrs. Payne who is near a nervous breakdown.

The police have as yet found no clue as to the negro who attacked the boy.

LIKE A WESTERN TOWN TODAY

Dust Clouds on Broadway Remind a Visitor of Home.

A stiff northerly wind has been transforming Columbia into a western Kansas town today. Clouds of dust have been rolling off Broadway, and even Eighth street with its every working "white-wing" is affected by the occasional gusts. Pedestrians on the paved streets, especially, are often forced to turn their heads to keep the dirt out of their eyes.

Yet to the man from the western plains, today's wind is only a breeze in comparison to a real "blow." The dust however was described as "home-like" by a man who has spent most of his life in a windy country.

"Out where I came from," he added, "the dust never blows off the main streets like it is blowing off Broadway today. The city pays part of the expense of sprinkling the streets and the merchants and adjoining property owners pay the rest. In one town where I was this summer a man runs a system of street sprinklers on his own accord. He does not receive a cent of pay from the city, but is under a monthly contract with the business men to keep the main streets wet. It costs each of the merchants just $2 a month in that town."

SWANGER IS SPEAKING FOR AMENDMENT NO. 11

Bank Commissioner Advocates Its Support in Campaign Speeches.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT

Proposed Tax Will Solve the Problem of a Greater M. U., He Says.

John E. Swanger, state bank commissioner, who is campaigning the state for the Republican ticket, is an active supporter of the Eleventh Amendment, and mentions it in every speech that he makes. He will talk about the amendment tonight at the courthouse.

Mr. Swanger said today that to him there was only one side to the amendment. "From the standpoint of economy alone the amendment should be supported. The work of the College of Agriculture and the other schools of the University is a good investment for the state.

"Then it is necessary that the University receive this support to be progressive," he said. "Missouri is a conservative state and I believe in its conservatism, but I also believe in progress; and although the University of Missouri ranks with the best in standard, yet it does not rank with them in facilities. Missouri should have the best.

"The question is not whether the University amendment should be supported, but how great that support should be. I believe the proposed tax is the best solution of the question. It will take a hard fight to pass the amendment," he said; "it will, have to be explained to the voters in the rural districts especially. But the work of the College of Agriculture and the School of Journalism has done much toward advertising the University and this will help in the election."

Mr. Swanger said that although he would probably support other amendments he was giving his active support to only two, the amendment for a new state capitol and the eleventh. He were both an Amendment Number Five, and an amendment Number Eleven button.
